Customer Reviews

As a proponent of alternative medicine and nearing the age of possible cataracts, I found this well written and informative book on removing your own cataracts. The author gives you a wealth of information about the eye, what a cataract is and video to help you understand. She then explains the homeopathic options and the different drops that can be used with a great amount of detail including links to more information. In other chapters the author covers eye nutrients, Pure Focus and color therapies; low dose radiation, and pinhole glasses. I have learned so much about eye care, prevention of cataracts and removing them without surgery by reading this book. There are NO books as complete as this one. I highly recommend.

My wife had a radial carototomy (sp?) many years ago when it was done "freehand" and was a radical solution of bad eyesight. She's since not been able to drive at night, which means I am relegated to that chore. I know wonder if there's not something we could do about it. I've dealt with docs all my life as they were real estate investors, and I've sat in enough coffee rooms and saloons with them to know that far too many surgeries are done...many of them coincide with the need of the doc to make his Mercedes payment that month. Both my wife and I have been told that we are in danger of cataracts, so this book came along at just the right time, better prevention than awakening to find you see nothing but gray...what a horrible thought! This book is well written, well referenced, and FULL of valuable information. Don't let this one get by you if you have the least touch of gray or if you have parents or grandparents you're concerned about. I'm going to read it again.

This is an excellent book with some really interesting content! I never knew that someone could remove his own cataract. And seriously this is great news for lot of people out there. I have had people in my family that had cataract and were really hesitant to proceed with the operation because of how sensitive the eye is and out of fear, of course. This book is an awesome source of valuable information. The author explains thoroughly everything you need to know about cataract and the cure to it. Another great book from the same author is the following: " Removing Your Own Cancer - How to Use Herbs to Extract Skin Cancers, Warts, Moles, Skin Tags and More! (Natural Skin Care)

This little book is so packed with priceless information that I think everyone should read it. Cataracts are so common, and everyone seems to think surgery is the only answer. Not so! Spend under $10 and find out ALL the alternatives. They work, too. I speak from happy experience.

I have always believed that healthy lifestyle choices help to reduce the risk of developing age related illnesses. As well I believe that healthy lifestyle choices can help to heal illness. Having said this, the concept that I can remove a cataract naturally versus surgically makes perfect sense. The risk of clinically acquiring infections appear to be increasing as well so my choice would be to prevent or heal ailments myself when able.

I have read a number of Julia's books and every single one of them are spot on and empowering to each of us for taking care of just basic health as well as a wonderful resource of hope. Hope for many who do not have access to medical expertise (and costly in some cases) that can be taken care of by natural methods or common and proven homeopathic and/or natural methods or practices. I have talked to my doctors even about some of these natural methods and they concur that many are practical. I am grateful to have her wisdom available to us all. One has to take responsibility and time to follow through with ones own health. Our afflictions did not come upon us all of a sudden and to correct any problem or affliction may not be all of a sudden as well. Thank You Julia for this book and information!

Many people have cataracts and this book offers some valuable alternatives in the battle against them. Cataracts are a common problem but not everyone wants to use the surgical route to restore vision. Julia Busch lays out many alternative remedies in great detail in this guide including homeopathic eye drops, pinhole glasses, vitamin supplements and many others alternatives. If you are researching alternatives to cataract surgery, I highly recommend this book.

As an artist the most horrible thing that could happen to me was to lose my eyesight. This book is a great comfort because it gives you the tools to prevent this from happening in the future. Cataracts are a common problem, but if you take action in time and start changing your lifestyle you can prevent developing cataract. I take "You are what you eat" for a fact. The author gives you lots of information about the eye, what a cataract is and help you to understand the problem. The book also gives you information about a lot of homeopathic options and drops that can be used with a great amount of detail, including links to videos. The book is easy to read and lovely short. Julia Busch comes to the point in no time. I will keep this book for the future. Highly recommended!
