Nancy Mather, PhD, is a Professor at the University of Arizona in the Department of Disability and Psychoeducational Studies. She specializes in the areas of assessment, reading, writing, and learning disabilities. She has served as a learning disabilities teacher, a diagnostician, and an educational consultant. Barbara J. Wendling, MA, is the Education Director of the Woodcock-Muñoz Foundation and the Director of the Richard Woodcock Institute. She is a co-author of the manuals for the WJ IV [®] and the Woodcock Interpretation and Instructional Interventions Programs. She has served as a general education teacher, a learning disabilities specialist, a product manager for a test publishing company, and an educational consultant.

This book is a nice overview of the WJ IV ACH test. It contains the same information as the examiner's manual, but in a more user-friendly way. There are parts that are more detailed than the examiner's manual, such as explaining certain scores and theories in more detail. I did find a few errors (the table that shows which calculation items are in each category is incorrect for Form A). If you are new to this assessment this would be a great manual. However, if you use the WISC cognitive assessment instead of the WJ COG this will be less useful as much of the information in this manual is about comparing the WJ ACH with the other WJ assessments.

This was helpful when writing my interpretation of test results. Like the other books in this series, it provides a wealth of information. The only negative is the small print. It is very difficult for me to read even with my glasses on. :)

Great book!

Needed book for my MA. The read is easy to understand and laid out really well.

Bible for school psychologists!! Well-organized with so much helpful information.

High quality and excellent condition.

Good supplement when interpreting WCJ.

It is an Essentials book, what can say, they are all excellent
